

JSON Prompt

Json prompt for video generation

```
{
  "prompt_name": "Tamil_Nadu_Folk_Arts_Cultural_Showcase",
  "video_specs": {
    "duration": "30s",
    "resolution": "3840x2160",
    "fps": 24,
    "aspect_ratio": "16:9"
  },
  "scale_framework": {
    "subject": {
      "primary": "A Karagattam dancer balancing a decorated brass pot (karagam) topped with flowers on his head, mid-spin",
      "secondary": [
        "A group of Oyilattam performers in bright pleated costumes dancing in a synchronized line with hand gestures",
        "A Poikkal Kudirai (dummy horse) dancer galloping through a village street in vivid horse-costume rig",
        "Silambattam martial artists sparring with bamboo sticks (silambam) in rhythmic combat choreography",
        "A Parai attam drummer troupe playing traditional parai frame drums with energetic arm movements",
        "A Villu Pattu (bow song) narrator-musician striking his bow-instrument while singing"
      ],
      "attire_details": "Karagattam dancer in white veshti with colorful angavastram, vibhuti-marked forehead; Oyilattam dancers in vivid pleated skirts and turbans with anklet bells (gejje);
Silambattam performers bare-chested in veshti with waist cloth"
```

```
},
"composition": {
  "shot_types": [
    "Opening wide establishing shot of a village street festival with a temple car (ther) in the background",
    "Low-angle tracking shot following the Karagattam dancer's spinning pot balance",
    "Wide dynamic shot of the Oyilattam line formation moving in unison",
    "Fast whip-pan following the Poikkal Kudirai horse-dancer galloping through the crowd",
    "Medium two-shot capturing the clash and rhythm of Silambattam stick-fighting",
    "Close-up on hands striking the parai drum with motion blur on fast beats"
  ],
  "framing": "Rule of thirds with festival crowd and street decorations framing performers; layered depth using foreground onlookers, midground dancers, background temple car/gopuram",
  "camera_movement": "Handheld energetic tracking during folk performances; sweeping crane shot to reveal full street festival scale; fast whip pans matching drum beats"
},
"action": {
  "sequence": [
    "Parai drummers open the sequence with a thunderous rhythmic beat, signaling festival start",
    "Karagattam dancer balances the flower-topped pot while spinning and bending backward",
    "Oyilattam group performs synchronized footwork and hand-clap patterns in a moving line",
    "Poikkal Kudirai dancer gallops and rears through the street to cheering crowds",
    "Silambattam duo exchange rapid bamboo-stick strikes in choreographed combat",
```

"Villu Pattu artist strikes his bow-instrument as the ensemble converges for a final group tableau under temple car lights"

],

"pacing": "High-energy editing synced to parai drum and thavil percussion beat, building tempo toward a climactic group finale"

},

"location": {

"primary_setting": "Village street festival during a temple car procession (ther thiruvizha), Tamil Nadu",

"secondary_settings": [

"Open village square with palm-leaf thatched pandal decorations",

"Dusty rural street lined with banana leaf and mango-leaf thoranam buntings",

"Temple courtyard as backdrop with a giant wooden temple car (ther) decorated in flowers and cloth"

],

"environment_details": "String lights and oil lamps lining the street, colorful festival banners, temple car with intricate wood carvings, dust kicked up by dancing feet, onlooking crowd in traditional wear"

},

"aesthetic": {

"color_palette": "Earthy village tones (ochre, terracotta) contrasted with vivid festival colors — reds, yellows, greens on costumes and banners",

"lighting": "Warm late-afternoon/dusk natural light transitioning to oil-lamp and string-light glow as festival intensifies",

"mood": "Raw, energetic, communal, celebratory, earthy",

"visual_style": "Documentary-realist with kinetic energy — grainy warmth reminiscent of rural festival photography, not overly polished",

"audio_pairing": "Live parai drum, thavil, and nadaswaram ensemble with crowd cheering ambience"

```

    }
  },
  "negative_prompt": "no modern clothing, no anachronistic elements, no blurry facial features, no distorted limbs during stick-fighting or spinning, no oversaturation that loses skin-tone
realism, no CGI-looking horse costume",
  "reference_style_tags": ["Tamil folk performance", "Karagattam", "Oyilattam", "Silambattam",
"Poikkal Kudirai", "village temple festival", "Tamil Nadu rural culture"]
}

```

Image 1

```

{
  "SCALE": {
    "Subject": "Tamil Nadu culture represented through the ancient classical Tamil language, featuring Tamil script, traditional palm-leaf manuscripts, Tamil literary heritage, temple architecture, classical Tamil poetry, Bharatanatyam, kolam, traditional silk sarees, and cultural symbols",
    "Composition": "A visually rich central composition with elegant Tamil letters and ancient palm-leaf manuscripts as the focal point, surrounded by subtle cultural elements such as temple gopurams, kolam patterns, classical dancers, and traditional motifs. Tamil script should flow organically through the composition, creating a connection between language, history, and culture",
    "Action": "Tamil letters and poetic verses appear to emerge from ancient palm-leaf manuscripts and transform into cultural symbols, creating a visual journey from the ancient Tamil literary tradition to the living culture of modern Tamil Nadu",
    "Location": "Tamil Nadu, South India, with the atmosphere of an ancient Tamil temple town, incorporating Dravidian temple architecture, traditional homes, and natural elements such as palm trees",
    "Aesthetic": "Elegant, timeless, heritage-inspired visual style with warm earthy tones, bronze and gold accents, traditional Tamil artistic motifs, intricate details, soft dramatic lighting, and a sense of pride, wisdom, and cultural continuity. The overall mood should feel majestic, authentic, scholarly, and deeply rooted in Tamil heritage"
  }
}

```

}

}

Image 2:

{

"SCALE": {

"Subject": "Tamil Nadu culture represented through Pongal, the vibrant Tamil harvest festival, featuring a traditional Pongal pot overflowing with milk and rice, sugarcane, turmeric plants, colorful kolam, decorated cattle, traditional attire, and joyful village celebrations.",

"Composition": "A dynamic central composition with a decorated Pongal pot as the focal point, surrounded by sugarcane, fresh turmeric, flowers, traditional kolam patterns, and families in vibrant Tamil attire. Include decorated bulls and cows in the background, with layers of village life creating depth and a strong sense of celebration.",

"Action": "Milk and rice boil over from the Pongal pot as people joyfully celebrate the harvest, women create intricate kolams, children participate in festivities, and decorated cattle move through the village. Capture the moment of 'Pongalo Pongal' as a celebration of gratitude for nature, farmers, livestock, and a prosperous harvest.",

"Location": "A traditional Tamil Nadu village during the Pongal festival, with terracotta-roofed houses, temple architecture, open courtyards, green paddy fields, sugarcane plantations, and a bright rural landscape under the warm South Indian sun.",

"Aesthetic": "Vibrant, joyful, festive, and authentically Tamil, with rich reds, yellows, greens, oranges, and earthy tones. Use intricate kolam patterns, traditional textiles, flower garlands, bronze vessels, natural textures, warm sunlight, and cinematic detail to create an atmosphere of abundance, community, gratitude, and cultural pride."

}

}

Image 3:

{

"SCALE": {

"Subject": "Tamil Nadu culture represented through its diverse and distinctive folk arts, featuring Karagattam, Therukoothu, Oyilattam, Poikkal Kuthirai, Kavadi Attam, Parai Isai, and traditional folk musicians in vibrant Tamil attire.",

"Composition": "A dynamic ensemble composition with multiple folk performers forming the visual centerpiece. Place a Karagattam dancer and Therukoothu performer prominently in the foreground, with Parai musicians, Oyilattam dancers, Poikkal Kuthirai performers, and Kavadi dancers layered naturally into the scene, creating a lively panorama of Tamil folk traditions.",

"Action": "Folk artists perform with energetic movements, rhythmic drumming, expressive gestures, colorful costumes, and traditional instruments. Capture the movement and communal spirit of a Tamil village festival, showing different folk arts coming together as a celebration of storytelling, music, dance, and tradition.",

"Location": "A traditional Tamil Nadu village festival setting with a decorated temple courtyard, village streets, terracotta-roofed houses, colorful festival banners, kolam patterns, palm trees, and a large gathering of local people.",

"Aesthetic": "Vibrant, energetic, colorful, and authentically rooted in Tamil folk tradition, with rich reds, yellows, greens, blues, and earthy tones. Use detailed traditional costumes, ornate headpieces, temple decorations, folk instruments, warm natural sunlight, dynamic movement, cinematic depth, and an atmosphere of celebration, community, and cultural pride."

}

}

